DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 5-9, 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
3. With regards to claim 5, the examiner is unclear because the claim states “either a first rotational orientation or in a second rotational orientation relative to said support wall” and the specification and drawing show a channel that can locked in a specific orientation, but doesn’t show or support different rotational orientation, since the channel is fasten to the shield, and thus doesn’t have a rotational orientation.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-9, 11-16, 19, 22, 24, 25, 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Szabo et al. (USPN 5,632,732) further in view of Bevilacqua (USPN 5,509,907).

Art Unit: 3763

6. Szabo et al. discloses a safety needle device with a shield (40+62) and a channel (72+45) mounted on said shield, and wherein the channel can be moved to different orientations on the shield. Szabo et al. fails to disclose the cannula finger lock.
7. Bevilacqua discloses a needle guard that has severe finger locks to secure the needle to the shield (figure 2, 4, 5, 10),
8. At the time of the invention it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art to combine the device of Szabo et al. with the teachings of Bevilacqua because Bevilacqua discloses an easy and effective way to secure the needle to the needle shield to prevent accidental pricking.

Double Patenting

9. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

10. Claim 1, 5 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 6, of U.S. Patent No. 7,220,249.

Art Unit: 3763

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they both claim a needle shield device with a needle hub, a needle cannula, a shield and a locking assembly or channel.

Allowable Subject Matter

11. Claims 10, 23 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

12. Claim 17 is in condition for allowance.

Response to Arguments

13. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
